

3-18-09

eMDI Announcement- New Version 3.2:

At the time of this writing, you (and your staff) have had a number of years to work with this exciting extension of the MDI printed catalog. Our hopes are that this new software tool has become mainstay of your quoting and ordering efforts in the offering of Millwork Distributors products to your clients. In the vein of our commitment to be focused on the continual expansion of this invaluable resource, we are pleased to announce the upcoming release of version 3.2.

The new 3.2 version of the eMDI program will be posted on Friday April 3rd at the conclusion of the business day and will be ready for your immediate download and use. There are a number of enhancements to existing catalog sections and software user improvements that will be installed as an outcome of this most recent update. The following is a summary of the improvements and new utilities that have been added:

- Addition of recently released Therma Tru products including the new Craftsman Style Smooth Star doors and sidelights along with all related light families and the newly offered expansion of Classic Craft American Collection in four and six lite doors, as well as, SDL sidelites.
- Significant additions to the Interior Door Configurator that reflect the growth in design and size availability from Woodport Doors.
- Changes in the selection process of StileChoice MDF doors that will include easier navigation and detail that will add ease to the location of style and profile that your client desires.
- Changes in the selection process of Woodport Doors that will include graphics to clearly define each panel style (Designer, Craftsman, Flat-ogee, or Flat-mission).
- Random price updates to the Interior Door and Apex sections that are reflective of recent price page release.
- Addition of Frontline Building Products to the home page section with a vision of release of the related configurator for this product offering in 2009.

We continue to be encouraged by the number of eMDI users that have shared positive comments about this market leading electronic catalog to date. We always welcome and encourage any and all feedback that you can provide to assist us in making this software program better for you, your staff, and your customers. Furthermore, we are excited about and focused on the continued improvement of our electronic catalog. The next scheduled update to the eMDI program will be the release of HB&G and Frontline Overhead Clad Door Frames/Retro-cladding Configurators .

If you have any questions regarding this, please contact your Territory Sales Manager.

Thank you,

Development Team